

Rialto has been named as Consultancy of the Year

We are delighted to announce that Rialto, has won an Organisational Culture Excellence Award and has been named 2016 Consultancy of the Year. The ceremony was held at the Tower Hotel, St Katharine's Way, London, on the 16th November 2016.

The awarding criteria required entrants to demonstrate how they have partnered with their clients to deliver projects with maximum impact, resulting in a reinvigorated organisational culture that has the renewed confidence of its stakeholders. Judges were looking at the totality of the consultancies' transformation work across multiple clients examining evidence of innovation, business impact, solution appropriateness, and client satisfaction.

The OC Excellence Award judges said, "The Rialto entry was impressive. There was strong evidence that the team have a great working relationship with their client. They demonstrated incredible organisational culture changes for their client and should be proud of their accomplishments."

Richard Chiumento, Director of Rialto Consultancy said, "We have always work closely with clients to deliver projects with maximum impact and are delighted to have won the OC Excellence Award. To be recognised as excelling in our work in transforming organisational cultures is extremely important to us and confirmation that we are leading the way."
